Mark Ronson, Daffodils (feat. Kevin Parker of Tar

All you think is down and gone
All of baby of the blue, evening
Make that gecho go higher
Stop the beacon dragon, bail
Step out on the patio
Follow where your daddio's leadin'

Also when I shadow that
Call until they're coming in, morning
Hit that driver if now, life in as the breathe out, easy
Drop another daffodil, we can push it through until morning
Drop another daffodil, say you love the map until morning

Maybe this ain't not a sin
Bodies got to keep exploring
Sweep again wide eyes pressing on deny this, morning
Drop another daffodil, we can push up through until morning
Drop another daffodil, sail out of the map til morning

Put another record on, maybe Chaka Khan will rock it
Got your body fall out
Get up all your gone cracking
For one day isosolis the bit of sex means nothing

Drop another daffodil, make her push up through until morning
Drop another daffodil, sail right off the map until morning
