Matt Kowalsky, It's all alright

You thought that I would do without you
But were through.
How naive I was thinking that you wont
Let me go?
You didnt expect me to be so damn strong
And move on.
A few times I almost break down,
But now-
Its alright
And I wont really cry
Im alright
Dont bother but me now
I dont mind
A new girl in your house
I dont care
Whose out there by your side
I thought that were gonna spend our life
- man and wife.
You knew I couldnt imagine me left
By myself.
And you were quite sure that I wont have a clue
What to do.
Well, maybe it wasnt a true love, and thats all
