Mysteries Of Life, I Forgot To Say Goodbye

Letters stuck between screen doors
Shadows lying on the floor
Someone on the driveway pulling in

Maybe it's of no concern
Maybe, never know for sure
Maybe you could've caught a glimpse of me

Things are different now
I've changed
I don't think we would get along these days
I forgot to say goodbye
I forgot to say goodbye

I can't bring myself to say
What's on my mind today
Headlights come and look the other way

Things are different now
I've changed
I don't think we would get along these days
I forgot to say goodbye
I forgot to say goodbye

I forgot to say goodbye
I forgot to say goodbye
I forgot to say goodbye
I forgot to say goodbye
