No Motiv, Break It Down

Seven years have gone by we're still here kinda wondering why there's a wall in front of us it's trying to hold us back it's time to do it now we've gotta break it down and put our lives on track
I'm always ready to back you
I'm always ready to back you all the way
I'm not afraid to give it all away
to give it all away to you no friends of mine can tell me what's wrong
can't tell me how long
I've got a right to be with you always trying to tell you what you can and cannot do they don't believe you when you tell them how you feel I feel the same as you do too
I feel the pain that you do too get back in your own mind take the front door out of mine
I'm always ready to back you
I'm always ready to back you all the way
I'm not afraid to give it all away
to give it all away to you
no friends of mine can tell me what's wrong
can't tell me how long
I've got a right to be with you because I think it's time for me to move on
for me to get gone
I've got a right to be with you
no friends of mine can tell me what's wrong
can't tell me how long
I've got a right to be with you
because I think it's time for me to move on
for me to get gone
I've got a right to be with you
I've got a right to be with you!
I've got a right to be with you!
I've got a right to be with you!
I've got a right to be with you!
I've got a right to be with you!