Nouveaux, Simply Beautiful

Cling to your feeble understanding
Searching the confines of your mind
You find no reason for believing
Sinking in the ocean of your pride

So you stand on a mountain and close your eyes
Blind to all of creation, you look for a sign

While peace like a river runs
Into the setting sun
Mercy painting the sky
Nothing to analyze
Making the simple wise
Looking through humble eyes
It's beautiful, simply beautiful

Picture window, pull the shade
Wait for a light in the dark where you lay

So you stand on a mountain and close your eyes
Blind to all of creation, you look for a sign

Peace like a river runs
Into the setting sun
Mercy painting the sky
Nothing to analyze
Making the simple wise
Looking through humble eyes
It's beautiful, simply beautiful

So you stand on a mountain and close your eyes
Blind to all of creation, you look for a sign

Peace like a river runs
Into the setting sun
Mercy painting the sky
Nothing to analyze
Making the simple wise
Looking through humble eyes
It's beautiful, simply beautiful

Peace like a river runs...
Peace like a river runs...
