NRG, Dream

It was just a dark path and I fell many times
Now I am tired and my heart is wounded, but where am I going?
I only have myself to rely on
And in my sleep there is no one to take that heavy load
The highway is the same and I carry everything
But I came to decide to give it all to away
From in this environment where I was given hardships
I wanted my fate to be the victim
You know about loneliness
You and I already knew that loneliness is always around us
There is a sadness deep within you that made you cry in pain
When you are tired and you feel that no one likes you
We will always be crying together
So don't be sad

Endless numbers of temptations drew near me
Yet your arms sweetly reached out to me
You wanted to pick me up when I was falling
I wanted to forget about reality, so I did
I wanted to forget about the day
But I couldn't forget the dreams that I had
When the light comes the dream fades, but I will make it through that again
So you held my hand and kiss me
Now do it again, take my hand
I'll always love you
I'll always be here whenever you are tired or weak
You are a beautiful dream living in this world

I can't give it all away, so look after me now
As despair starts to surround us, I promised to get myself through it
I won't be sad, and I won't be alone, and I won't hurt anymore
Out of all the people in the world you are also looking out for me
Please try to care for and don't make love have to wait
Now it won't be hard to do something for me
