Pati Yang, Coming Home

I am coming home
See for yourself
Now you will know God has listened
You asked him to bring me - I am here
I traveled in search of the miracle
But it brought me nothing but pain and I saved my tears for this moment
I cried my eyes empty for bread
And if the world's so advanced
Why there's still no cure
To mend my broken heart
Be again with you
Hasn't time change us
Like wind changes dessert
but now we're together
Wish I held your hand longer
But your hand is cold...
Am I Late?
Heaven knows that you're safe...
And better than ever.
Heaven knows that you're safe...
And better than ever.
I thought if I left you there
I'd change the whole world
I'd make it so bright and so peaceful
You'll never again feel alone
I wish you could see us now
So much Alike
Years craved their wisdom and silence
In scars we have hidden from light
And if the world's so advanced
Why there's still no cure
To mend my broken heart
And be again with you
Hasn't time changed us
Like wind changes dessert
But now we're together
Wish I held your hand longer
but your hand is cold...
Am I Late?
Heaven knows that you're safe...
And better than ever.
