Pooh, I Dedicate My Love To You

Changing my life's taking on a new meaning i'm learning to flow with the games that once bound me and i'm beginning to be free.
Loving is never the wanting or needing and loving yourself is the key to all being i'm just beginning to be me.
And though i walk thru the night in the shadow of darkness it's starting to turn into a pale shade of light.
Getting brighter with each moment of living and i thing it's gonna be alright.
If it wasn't for you i never would have made it i'm grateful to you for giving me the key if it wasn't for you i never would have faced it i dedicate my love to you only you.
Giving is a magical reason for living and you gave me moments that i ever will treasure no matter where and come what may.
And though i walk thru the night
in the shadow of darkness
i know deep inside it's gonna be alright.
Getting higher with each breath i'm breathing and i'm beginning to see the light.
But if there wasn't you i never would have made it
if it wasn't for you i would have just forsaken it i would have faked it if it wasn't for you.
Closer than any dream can imagine from this very moment to the end of forever i dedicate my love to you.
