<lyrics>
So spring came and woke up and
Then it was summer and crying all over and Laughing again at dusk in the fall

Before we know it, time goes by and then changes again
I touch the world, I disappear

A toast to me, because I am free, so long

Let's write it down, there's time to bring it out of zero
I'll dream of it
I"m confident

I can't wait any longer, so tired of waiting
Time for a new journey
So long, my friend

I really love you from the bottom of my heart

I can do anything if I want to, just stop searching for yourself
It's a waste of time

A toast to me, so long, I am free
