Saturnus, Noir

Tears to fill the despair dreams to hunt forever
so fill up my cup with emptiness again and chase those blackenened dreams on more time
Nevertheless I'm gone
The drone of snow
as i breathe every second of your nearness so fill my cup with despair again and dream those blackened dream one
more time
Nevertheless I'm gone
Help me change
change the pain
my sadness never sleeps I walk the lonely mile should I forget your face?
and cast away my dreams?
should I walk away?
would I walk forever?
Nevertheless I'm gone
