

3 Inches Of Blood, Axes Of Evil

hark!

a scout has reached the gate, bringing news of war in a fortnight they'll be here, legions of the nameless fear our king he cannot lead, our king is growing old with a courageous cry, a young man rises from the fold the answer we seek lies in the frozen waste i leave at dawn with haste for...

axes of evil

astonished faces look his way, as the hopeful carry horror in their hearts uncertain of a power that malice forged in steel i must face this threat that challenges our lives ill strike out with vengeance, ill reap from their demise no! you must not seek the blades, its said that they are cursed possess you if they're found, to the dreadlord they are bound cutting flesh for him to eat, bloody raw lucifer meat peril awaits you in the fjords, we cannot lose you to the...

axes of evil, strong not feeble axes of evil, come on!

axes of evil, our fates wrapped in steel axes of evil, come on! Come on!

the future of our land lies in the balance you must go to save us all at last they're found floating in a crystal orb speak the incantation written on the wall in a blinding flash the axes fly into his hands too much power for him to bear, he'll wreak havoc on the land wreaking havoc on the land

axes of evil, come on!

axes of evil, will kill all the people axes of evil, come on! Come on!

here comes our hero, back from his quest here to save us all, deliver us from death

...axes of evil

on the fourteenth mornings chill, from the rampart he is spotted on the hill with a look of burning poison that fills his eyes with rage i have returned to put an end to all your lives with no remorse i will reap from your demise

...axes of evil
