Signs Of Betrayal, Blink

Do you stop and think
This life could be over in just one blink?
Do you look around
And wonder if life will come crashing down?
Are you questioning
The choices you make and the dreams you seek?
Some might be right and some might be wrong
And all of this helps you to become strong
Keep on wishing for that storybook ending
And cherish it while you sleep
Do you fantasize
And wake up to find out there is no prize?
Is it all a game?
A gamble to find out what you can gain
Do you play it safe
Or take the risk knowing there will be pain?
You search for the key to unlock the answer
Only to find there's still one more chapter
Keep on wishing for that storybook ending
And cherish it while you sleep
Soon you'll find it's over.
Keep on wishing for that storybook ending
And cherish it while you sleep
Keep on wishing for that storybook ending
And cherish it while you sleep
