Sloan, Witch's Wand

Remember I'd forgotten that I met you before
It was your friend, distant friend
I really got to know
Before you waved your witch's wand

Climb up to the roof so we can check out the view
I think somebody spoke but I didn't have a clue
That you waved your witch's wand

Won't you start facing your dragon tonight
Won't you stop counting the matches that
Never would light
Ooh
Yeah, you waved your witch's wand

Do you know of any places we can dance at this hour
I wiped out on my bike, you were laughing in the shower
At seconds 'til the dawn

Don't bother with the feelings, we'll just set them alight
I know that I've been warned and you tried to waive my rights
With your wicked witch's wand

Won't you start facing your dragon tonight
Won't you stop counting the matches that
Never would light
Ooh
Your trip to the west ain't a trip to the right
You move any closer and you'll disappear from sight
Yeah, you waved your witch's wand
For anyone who wanted to see

Well I woke up
Like a cop just told me to freeze
And you stood there
Yeah, the snow was up to your knees
It's the season
White knuckles to save your sleeves

Won't you stop chasing the dragon tonight
Won't you stop counting the matches that
Never would light
Ooh
Your trip to the west ain't a trip to the right
You move any closer and you'll disappear from sight
Ooh
Yeah, you waved your witch's wand
Ooh
You waved your witch's wand
Ah-ah-ah-ah
You waved your witch's wand
You waved your witch's wand
Ah-ah-ah-ah
You waved your witch's wand
You waved your witch's wand
Ah-ah-ah-ah
You waved your witch's wand
You waved your witch's wand
Ah-ah-ah-ah
You waved your witch's wand
You waved your witch's wand