So They Say, This nights are long

So if all we are is just a gust of air that won't make up for uncivil tongues
That if what I have done has put me here in a middle of battlefield caught in despair
It's the lust that you feel
It's the trust, it's the trust we're lacking
On and on we never made much sense to us
Your alone
The nights are long as long as I think of you (think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't you (you)
The nights are long as long as I think of you (think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't you
I don't like how you always compare
I don't really think thats somehow fair
It's the lust that you feel
It's the trust, it's the trust we're lacking
On and on we never made much sense to us
Your alone
The nights are long as long as I think of you (think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't you (you)
The nights are long as long as I think of you (think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't you
She ain't you
She just ain't you..
You'll get far
I don't care (If I fucked up)
See your face before I fall asleep tonight (You)
The nights are long as long as I think of you (Think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't you (She's good at making love but ain't you)
The nights are long as long as I think of you (The nights are long as long as I think of you)
She's good at making love but she ain't you (she ain't you)
