Social Burn, Pretend

Did you see the sky tonight
It was covering a world so bright
Hiding from a place inside
You could never really see the light
But I'm having trouble sleeping
Cause I know no one's awake
I wish that I was dreaming
Cause then I could see your face
And I wish I knew a place to hide
I wish I knew a place inside
Where I could

(Chorus)
Pretend you're the only one
Pretend you're the only one
Pretend you're the only one
That's so far away

But you're having trouble breathing
Cause the world takes your breath away
And you're hiding from the demons
That attack you everday
And I wish I could be there
To help take away the pain
But looking in my mirror
I could never see your face

(Chorus) (Bridge)
But if I could see your face tonight
I would give away my worthless life
Crawling on my hands and knees
I beg you, I beg you, I beg you...

(Lead break) (Chorus x2)
