Splendid, Less Than Zero

You got a way of saying anything
You get away with saying it to me
When you want to and I let you
And you can Play the game like i never could
And even I'm not such a goody good
Like a weakness for chocolate i cave and you think that im numb to it all
But I'm not so innocent baby

I dont want to play this game no more
If this isn't love I'm fighting for
And if it was
Then why would you let me feel so less than zero

So it seems it's all inside my head
It disappears when we get into bed
Turn the lights off close my eyes now and i feel Silly me to be so nonchanlant
To make believe this
Is what I really want
Like a stranger with candy
You used it handle me
Shame on you now coz you're not so innocent now baby

I dont want to play this game no more
If this isn't love I'm fighting for
If it was then why would you let me feel so less than zero

I dont want to play this game no more
If this is love then what is war
And I've never felt so sure
Then let's surrender like a hero

I don't want to play this game no more
If this is a love worth fighting for Then why would you make me feel so less than zero

less than zero
