Sylver, It takes two never walked this road before never seemed to know that sometimes love is holdin' on and sometimes letting go i fought for all the things we had

i thought it would do
but in the end i mus admit
for real love it takes two it takes two me and you
it takes two to do what we're supposed to do hold me now push on through for reak kive iut takes two would you turn your back one me would you walk away or will you turn the hands of time and tell me that you'll stay
i fought for all the things we had
