Television Personalities, She Lives For The Mom

She Lives For The Moment

She lives for the moment
When everything's just right
When the stars are shining bright
She lives for the moment

She lives for the moment
When she feels that she belongs
When the singer sings her song
She lives for the moment

And when she was a child
Her parents' pride and joy
When summer fields are gold
She lives for the moment

She lives for the moment
She lives for the moment
When she knows that she belongs
She lives for the moment

And when the sea is calm

A baby in her arms
And the scars are (...)
Now she's no longer ill

She lives for the moment
When all the grieving's done
When she knows that she belongs
She lives for the moment

When summer turns to autumn
When summer fields are gold
When the story has been told
She lives for the moment

She lives for the moment
When she feels that she belongs
When the singer sings her song
She lives for the moment

She lives for the moment
She lives for the moment
