Ooh, yeah, yeah

Heavy rain from my cloudy eyes
Every time you say
That isn't why I used to call you babe
But you're the light of my life

I drove by your house twenty-nine times today
And nobody else could make me feel this way
Nobody else, nobody else
Nobody

'Cause you've opened my eyes and stolen my heart
You make me believe that love can be hard
And I can never survive a minute apart
You are my one true love, my one true love
My heaven above, my one true love

Heavy rain on a Saturday
When you said my name in the saddest way
Nothing numbs the pain
You're still the light of my life

I drove by your house ten-thousand times last year
Nobody else wanted to dry my tears
Nobody else, nobody else
Nobody else

'Cause you've opened my eyes and stolen my heart
You make me believe that love can be hard
And I can never survive a minute apart
You are my one true love, my one true love
My heaven above, my one true love, yeah-yeah

Nobody else
