

A.B. Quintanilla y Los Kumbia Kings, Why Did You

Why did you break my heart and say your goodbye?
Why did you break my heart and leave me with tears in my eyes?
How could you say you left me when all your words were true?
Let me say you really fooled me, my heart just didn't see it coming
I still can see the pictures on the wall
Of you and I when I walk through the hall
How can I forget the happy times
When I thought we were both in love
I still can hear your voice
When you would say to me you'd never leave me
How I believed you
My eyes were just too blind too see
Oh, I surrendered my heart but you just tore it apart
How could you leave me so lonely, lonely?
I gave my heart to you
How could you just leave me crying?
Why did you break my heart and say your goodbye?
Why did you break my heart and leave me with tears in my eyes?
How could you say you left me when all your words were true?
Let me say you really fooled me, my heart just didn't see it coming
Tell me baby
Why did you have to leave?
Just tell me baby
I'm begging you, begging you please
How could you leave
Without a word to say to me baby
And how could you think
That all my life without you here would be the same
When you went away
I can't believe the emptiness just hit me, baby
My heart was crying so loud
I just could not believe it
Oh, I surrendered my heart but you just tore it apart
How could you leave me so lonely, lonely?
I gave my heart to you
How could you just leave me crying?
Why did you break my heart and say your goodbye?
Why did you break my heart and leave me with tears in my eyes?
How could you say you left me when all your words were true?
Let me say you really fooled me, my heart just didn't see it coming
Why did you break my heart and say your goodbye?
Why did you break my heart and leave me with tears in my eyes?
How could you say you left me when all your words were true?
Let me say you really fooled me, my heart just didn't see it coming
