

A Blinding Silence, When In Doubt

I call out your name
when running in circles is all I can do.
I'm playing these games
of certain delusions revolved around you
looking down
falling into
your eyes
I'm playing these games of circles when in doubt of how this really is I just look
and in your eyes is where I can see the truth
running in circles
in you
You call out my name
When running in circles is all you can do is all you can do you're playing these games of hurtful delusions
when no one wants you
looking down
your eyes
I'm playing these games of circles
when in doubt of how this really is
I just look
and in your eyes is where I can
see the truth
running in circles
in you
