

A Camp, The Bluest Eyes In Texas

the lonesome texas sun was setting low and in the rearview mirror i watch it go i can still see the wind and the golden air i close my eyes for a moment, i'm still there

the bluest eyes in texas
are haunting me tonight
like the stars that filled the midnight sky
her memory fills my mind (where did i go wrong)
did i wait too long
but can i make it right

another town another hotel room another dream that ended way too soon left me lonley waiting before the dawn searching for the strenght to carry on

are hauntin me tonight for every heart you break you pay the price but i can't forget the tears in her blue eyes

the bluest eyes
are haunting me
tonight
