

A Day at the Fair, Remembering Britt

You got your brand new house,
You got your brand new room,
You got the pictures one the wall, and I'm not in any of them,
I've got your letters stored,
And space to fill,
I've got a box I never threw away, and probably never will,

I won't say your name without a smile,

Wasted nights,
We feared our home,
I drove you anywhere you'd want to go,
On nameless streets,
You told me you loved me,
Forever and ever again,

I kept the ticket stubs,
I got our last playbill,
You've got stories for the big screen, and you bought "If There's A Will,"
I carry my own life,
With my heart intact,
Like those times I used to spend with you are never coming back,

I'll sit another day, remembering,

Wasted nights,
We feared our home,
I drove you anywhere you'd want to go,
On nameless streets,
You told me you loved me,
Forever and ever,
Were you the one for me? (Were you the one for me?)
Were you the one for me? (Were you the one for me?)

There was once, this chance, to share the world with just one girl,
Cause she was perfect, she was honest,
She broke my heart, when she broke her promise,

There was once, this chance, to share the world with just one girl,
Cause she was perfect, she was honest,
She broke my heart, when she broke her promise,

(Wasted nights, we feared our home, I drove you anywhere you'd want to go)
There was once, this chance, to share the world with just one girl,
(On nameless streets, you told me you loved me)
Cause she was perfect, she was honest,
She broke my heart, when,
Forever and forever again
