A Day To Remember, You Already Know What Y

They used to tell me You got to choose a side Now it's four years later And they beg for advice Don't trust the critic, he's a cynic Make the call for yourself This is my 10 step course To not be like everyone else And I know it's not the easiest route And I know it leaves you overflowing with doubt But if you want it you can have it Hope it's all that you dreamt 'Cause once you got it you're gonna get it You won't be leaving this You can't trust everyone you meet They won't amount to anything Go tell them, go tell them It's not as simple as you think You can't trust everyone you meet They never meant that much to me Go tell them, go tell them It's not as simple as you think Clenched fists held above me You will never bring me to my knees I said clenched fists held above me You will never bring me to my knees You'll get what you deserve
