

A Girl Called Eddy, Somebody Hurt You

Boy, somebody hurt you
Boy, I wish I knew who Could look into your sad eyes
And make such a sweet thing cry
You're lonely like only the broken can know
Aching for love but afraid to show
See how I miss you
Boy, someone might hurt you
But it would never be me
I wrapped you inside me
Be free or just hide for awhile
'Cause I'm lonely like only the broken can know
Aching for love but afraid to show
Lonely like only the broken can be
Breaking my own heart to make you see
See how I miss you
Please don't run away from the things that are real
And don't be afraid of whatever you feel
I'm feeling it too
I'm feeling it too
Boy, if you go looking
For things like in younger days
There won't be an answer
Only love can change your ways
Your lonely like only the broken can know
Aching for love but afraid to show
Lonely like only the broken can be
Breaking your own heart to make me see
See how I miss you
Boy, somebody hurt you
Boy, somebody hurt you
Boy, somebody hurt you
Boy, somebody hurt you
Boy, somebody hurt you
Boy, somebody hurt you
Boy
