

A Life Once Lost, Chileab

Tell me what you wish to do?

You know that your wish most likely will not come true

Not to worry because your life has been one big disappointment anyway

Thinking that if I fall asleep to her breathing

It is not despair, it is certainly that I have suffered enough and that I am sacrificing myself for her

Tell me what you wish to do,