

A Smile From The Trenches, New York Is Not A S

Goodbye!

So hold onto it Baby take a deep breath and die

You started of amazing now let me mail you this goodbye

With hands around your throat and your digging in my back

So come on Baby tell me now what is up with that

I watched you through the key hole

As you shedded all your pride

Then you gently ran your fingers on the inside of your thigh

Did you feel me staring through you

Did I make you feel a lie

I'll smile from the trenches

As you lay there and cry [x2]

Lying to me won't help it just fuels the fire when we're done

How long did it take you to (perfect that single tear)

Red lipstick and black eyes won't do you any good

Neither will broken promise rings

With a pair of (hearts to match)

Did you feel me staring through you

Did I make you feel a lie

I'll smile from the trenches

As you lay there and cry [x2]

I'll eat you up girl

I'll make you something so sweet

I'll make you something like a

Delicacy [x3]

Did you feel me staring through you

Did I make you feel a lie

I'll smile from the trenches

As you lay there and cry
