

A Thorn For Every Heart, A Night To Remember,

I can't love your eyes (It's all your fault)
Pushing back for more (As time flies by you wait for it)
And they paralyze (For anything at all)
I can't let you in (Let's break away tonight)
Because that means that you win (The sand's gone from the hourglass).
And it's forever (We're free at last)
You're not the one to blame for this at all
Must have burnt this down, ashes all around
What were the questions that you had for me?
I couldn't solve it all, so just let it be
Waiting awake by the window and in my heart
Answers in the form of a question: why don't we all
End this with the quickness of breaking down the glass?
Now you're waiting and I am ready.
Seasons are constantly changing (Waking up, waking up to your eyes)
Time that we seem to be wasting (You cut me out; you cut me out completely out this time.)
Making up, breaking up for the last time (Time won't wait)
The reflection of your life tells me you're sleeping (Life won't wait)
Runaway, run from this
Can't be, can't be real.

[x2]

I can't love your eyes (And all you are)
Pushing back for more (Are the mistakes that you make always)
And they paralyze (When everything's gone wrong)
I can't let you in (Let's waste away tonight)
Because that means that you win (The sand's gone from the hourglass)
And it's forever (Our time has passed)
You're not the one to blame for this at all
Must have burnt this down, ashes all around
What were the questions that you had for me?
I couldn't solve it all, so just let it be
Fingers that tap the windowpane
Are too numb. Numb for you to feel the real pain
The kind that waits in me
Wanting something more than what this life has brought to me
Now I'm running, now I'm running
Seasons are constantly changing (Waking up, waking up to your eyes)
Time that we seem to be wasting (You cut me out; you cut me out completely out this time.)
Making up, breaking up for the last time (Time won't wait)
The reflection of your life tells me you're sleeping (Life won't wait)
Runaway, run from this
Can't be, can't be real.
Seasons are constantly changing
Time that we seem to be wasting
Leaving now (Time won't wait)
Don't forget (Life won't wait)
