

Aardvark, Meat

Scanning the crowd for a beauty My vision's prepared by my lust my senses are searching for signs the only thing that I can trust The scent of musk fills my nose Hot eyes staring deep into mine the steaming curves of her flesh hit me right into my spine Roaming through alleys in darkness in search for pulsing blood the smell of the living surrounds me exciting my undead heart The centuries building my memory are wiped away by my greed in the face of my paralysed prey my cold brain is screaming for meat Meat to feed my body
Blood to fill my vein
Carnal need corrupts control
just to keep me sane
Meat to cause existence
Flesh to please my soul Carnal greed reflects the hunger that I can't control Feeling the hunger inside me wakening savage desire grabbing the fat-dripping pieces roasted on hot glowing fire biting and chewing the lumps swallowing what used to live achieving the sweet satisfaction a well-filled stomach can give Meat to feed my body
Blood to fill my vein
Carnal need corrupts control
just to keep me sane
Meat to cause existence
Flesh to please my soul
Carnal greed enjoys the hunger that I won't control
