

Aaron Jeffrey, Across The Miles

We will make this promise
On the memories we've made
A friendship born in heaven
Will last though all our days
A part of me goes with you
Even if you journey far
You'll never be forgotten
No matter where you are
Across the miles, please remember
When I can't be there
I will send my heart to you
Upon the wings of prayer
Across the miles, may God keep you
Through the tears and smiles
For His love will reach across the miles
May your life be a blessing
May all your dreams come true
May the Lord be with you
In everything you do
In all of your tomorrows
Wherever life may lead
This bond will go unbroken
When you know someone believes
Across the miles, please remember
When I can't be there
I will send my heart to you
Upon the wings of prayer
Across the miles, may God keep you
Through the tears and smiles
For His love will reach across the miles
His love will reach across the miles
