Aaron Tippin, Nothin' In The World

Well, I've moaned the blues since she slammed that door Drank and cried and I walked the floor And her memory's backed me against the wall So tonight I'm gonna end it all You can say goodbye to this lonely guy Nothin' in the world can save me but a girl Help me, help me, I'm about to die There's a lovesick man on the prowl tonight Don't call the doctor, don't call the law When a good lovin' woman can fix it all I gotta have another she to rescue me Nothin' in the world can save me but a girl Well, I know y'all think that I've gone mad I'm out huntin' me one like I just had It's like grabbin' a hold of a high line wire Or jumpin' out of the pan straight into the fire Oh, but only a man can understand Nothin' in the world can save me but a girl Help me, help me, I'm about to die There's a lovesick man on the prowl tonight Don't call the doctor, don't call the law When a good lovin' woman can fix it all I gotta have another she to rescue me Nothin' in the world can save me but a girl
