

Abandon, Hold On

She sits alone and wonders
When is the end of broken dreams
This isn't what I pictured
She says as tears run down her cheeks
She needs a friend beside her
She's looking for a Savior
Hold on, hold on, someone will find you
Hold on, hold on, somebody loves you
Hold on, hold on, you're not drowning this time
Hold on, hold on, look for the searchlights
She grabs her coat to leave
So sure it's gonna be the end
Another broken family
Tears are her only friends
This isn't the life they wanted
She's hoping that Heaven comes through
Does anybody care and do you even see
Look past my skin until you see me
Do you even know what I'm going through
I need to talk to someone can I talk to you
Does anybody care and do you even see
I'm running out of hope and sanity
Do you even know what I'm going through
I'm having a hard time facing the truth
Does anybody care ...
