

Abby Travis, Wink

I'd do somersaults to please you
But you're already gone
Play in my mind a thousand times
Each incidental glance that made me sigh

I don't even want to see you
Not even for a drink
You might just bring me back to happiness
I wish I had for keeps

You were everything to me
If only for two weeks
I couldn't eat

I couldn't sleep a wink

I know that any hopes are futile
Of love beyond my bed
You don't even want to know me
Despite the things you've said

You would never let me be
The things you are to me
I wasn't just a tease

I couldn't sleep a wink

That force keeps pushing me down
Like some kind of heart attack
Down on my back
I could fight back

I couldn't sleep a wink
