

Above Symmetry, Ripples

Today I saw the world from a different view
The prospect of a future is now unclear
Today I saw the truth, the truth about tomorrow
All that I cared for turned to rust
And now I don't know where to go...
Have we lost, have we failed
Will we ever be able to act
Have we come to the point where we don't see the fact
The fact that...
We plague our nature
We plague our mighty God above
There's no longer salvation
Are we willing to die for nothing
Ungrateful, despite the blessings
Tomorrow we'll be confused, rounded up in panic
Tomorrow we'll flee, and you'll blame it on me, can't you see
We can't resist all the temptations we face, in our wasted, shallow lives
And the sound of our misery will never fade out
So if we are the ones
Will we be given mercy for our actions
Or will we have a second chance
To stop the flame from burning out
Where do we go now
Is there nothing more for us to do here
Will we find a better place
Or can we stop this fading flame
Have we lost, have we failed
Will we ever be able to act
Have we come to the point where we don't see the fact
The fact that...
We plague our nature
We plague our mighty God above
There's no longer salvation
Are we willing to die for nothing
Ungrateful, despite the blessings