

Abra Moore, Melancholy Love

Well, I'll meet you in the middle and I'll crawl to the edge
And I'll stand there forever just to see if I can
And I'll cry a river as I lay in your bed
'Cause I need you like I need the rain
And I need you like I need the man
And I need you like I've never needed anything before
'Cause we're just running wild and young
It was only just for fun
This melancholy love
Well, I'll see you there in your midtown square
And I'll see you there and I just won't care
And I'll hold you down but I'll never let you fall
'Cause we're just running wild and young
It was only just for fun
This melancholy love
But could you tell me why I feel so sad about it?
Could you tell me why?
Well, I'll meet you in the middle and I'll crawl to the edge
And I'll stand there forever just to see if I can
And I'll cry a river as I lay in your bed
'Cause we're just running wild and young
It was only just for fun
This melancholy love
Yeah, we we're running wild and young
It was only just for fun, wasn't it?
This melancholy love
Could you tell me why I feel so sad about it?
Could you tell me why I feel so sad about it?
Could you tell me why I feel so sad about it?
Could you tell me why I feel so sad about it?
Could you tell me why I feel so sad about it?
