

Abscess, Maldoror

How vile to utter his name
He who has slugs, lice & snails Fleeing at the sight of their enemy He who would break the bones and tear the skin of the Noble sacred youth Until flaps of flesh hang

[Chorus:]
Fiend beast and venomous ghoul His pale corpse like sheen knows no more
He who would rend the pink faced child's cheeks
The eyes contemplate
While the razor sits and grins
He who would stitch your eyes shut Depriving you of the spectacle of the universe

[Chorus]

[lead = D.C.]

He who would break your arms like two try branches and then forcibly make you eat them He who would raise your virgin body by the legs and swing you around like a fiend and hurl you against the wall and each drop of your blood would spurt onto a human breast to get forth an example of his weakness

[Chorus]
