

Absurd Minds, Here & Now

The here is everywhere and the now is always.
Turn round and discover the sun which was there all the time.

You follow your shadow, cause it seems to prove the man you are.
Do you think that you're a person? To be, you must be nobody.

You miss the real by lack of attention and by excess of imaginations.
You, just playing a role, guess what you are when the game is over?

A light is intercepted. So the shadow appears. - The persons arise.
Your self-awareness is obstructed, cause you create a lie.
