

AC/DC, Let There Be Rock

In the beginning back in nineteen fifty five man didn't know 'bout a rock 'n' roll show and all that jive
the white man had the schmaltz the black man had the blues but no one knew what they was gonna do but Tschaikovsky had the news
and there was light let there be sound
there was sound
let there be drums
there was drums
let there be guitar
there was guitar
let there be rock
let there be rock 'n' roll and it came to pass that rock 'n' roll was born all across the land every rockin' band was blowin' up a storm and the guitar man got famous the business man got rich and in every bar there was a superstar with a seven year itch there was fifteen million fingers learnin' how to play and you could hear the fingers pickin' and this is what they had to say they said light

sound drums guitar
let there be rock

one night in the club called the shakin' hand there was a 42 decibel rockin' band and the music was good and the music was loud and the singer turned and he said to the crowd
let there be rock
