Accept, Another Second To Be

I hold a magazine in my hand Facing the cover - it's me They write about my coming end No more than twelve months for me

Tainted and fainted and lonely I picture my life Blameless and shameless I'm leaving in awful disgrace

Another second to be Not another second to be

All the things I just have done Passing my mind hundred times All the tears I have cried, all the lies I have lied All in hope for a better life

Tainted and fainted and lonely I picture my life Blameless and shameless I'm leaving in awful disgrace

Not another second to be Lonely I picture my life - no second to be Time's running out and there's just no second to be I'm leaving in awful disgrace - no second to be There's not another second to be
