

Acceptance, Things You Say

So hard to
Believe in things that you can't see yourself
See yourself

Behind the scene
Lies more than you can understand yourself
Stand yourself

And now they tell you what you want to hear
When they're done, will you still live in fear?

And everything you say to me will be on my knees
And everything you say to me will be on my knees

I can't believe a thing you say
I can't believe a thing you say
I can't believe a thing you say
I can't believe a thing you say

You're told that selfishness will guide your path
What will you do when that just doesn't last?

And everything you say to me will be on my knees
And everything you say to me will be on my knees

So hard to Believe in you
I'm not quite clear
What I should do

And now I know that you're the only one
But do they know that you're the only one?

And I can't believe a thing you say
And I can't believe a thing you say
And I can't believe a thing you say
And I can't believe a thing you say

I can believe a thing you say
I can believe a thing you say
I can believe a thing you say
I can believe a thing you say

It's so hard to Believe in things that you can't see
