

Across The Border, The Seed

Around the year of '92 a nation woke With a start the seed of past grew well, never broke apart we all had slept too long, we should have woken up before 'cause fascism never died after loosing the war denazification of this nation was here only for show the offenders of this time still represent the law still repress justice like they did before