Adagio, The Astral Pathway

Day after day Night after night Creeping the smiles in the mirror Obsessed by light I'm in disguise No more behaviour Glittering stars High in the sky A million lights shining though Misunderstood, a last goodbye Picturing the past Touching the clouds in heaven Passing the season Crossing the astral pathway Blessing the night And if the stars accepts us I'll be one of them Day is crying in the sky Wash away my sinful eyes Stand with me, I will carry out your sorrow Stand with me, I will make your way through shadow Don't ask me why Never return Centuries have past Dying of dawn Our mysteries rise from above

Wash away my sinful eyes
