

Adam Watts, Critical Condition

I found a way to look like a window
And slam shut like a door
I found a way to laugh and say "i know";
Give less 'cause less is more

But then i bleed where nobody can see
Yeah, i bleed from internal injuries
Yeah, i bleed where nobody can see
Yeah. i bleed, i just can't seem to listen
Help me i'm

In critical condition
Help me i'm...
In critical condition

I look away when it's written on my face
Even oceans overflow
The lion's tame when locked inside its cage
Chained up with bottled rage

I won't let it be the end of me
The earth underneath my feet is crumbling
Will i float, will i fall
I guess i'll have to learn to trust in you
With all of this

I wanna be closer to you lord
