

Adam Watts, Still

Trusting melted snow
When it's always changing
Is hard but you'll know why I'm here
Once I'm gone
What's burning below?
Miles of pain won't go, so I will
Shame on the child in me
Shame on the liar in me
It's a shame, it's a shame
You've made trust, to me seem a crime
Just know I've been with you honestly
The whole time
Is this love or are we
Looking for perfect things to claim?
Is this love or are we
Bleeding the blood of all the pain?
I guess this is love
The sun won't stay up for long
And you are so afraid
Afraid of the darkness that comes
So what can I do? You can't be alone tonight
So what can I do? I still love you
This is love sometimes
Forget all the perfect things we crave
This is love this time
What's living inside me, I can't tame
I guess, I guess this is love
This is love
