

Addict, Stones

It's just like you to cause a scene
It's just like me to tell tales
I know it weighs heavy
But it doesn't have to be this way

Just let the stones fall from their slings
You know you can throw sharper things
Just let the pain fold away
You'll slip your chains sooner that way

What comes down to burden you
It's just like a test that never fails
And i know it's hard for you
But you don't see the beauty that i see

Just let the stones fall from their slings
You know you can throw sharper things
Just let the pain fold away
You'll slip your chains sooner that way

And i will be the last one down
For i see more than just a noose
Allow me to show you what i mean

Just let the stones fall from their slings
You know you can throw sharper things
Just let the pain fold away (fold away)

Just let the stones fall from their slings
You know you can throw sharper things
Just let the pain fold away (fold away)

Just take my hand, it's alright
I know you're weak from your fight
Just let the fear of it all trouble you, no more
