

Adem, Crashlander

Crashland

You took your own life in your hands

You had to escape him somehow

Oh you knew

You knew it would hurt

Pull yourself free

With the wreckage at your feet

Feel the relief

All your doubts and wounds will be

Gone

Gone

Crashlander

There's damage, but at least you're alive

The hardest thing you could have done, you've done now

It gets easy from hear

As you turn your back on

The constellation you flew from

You are hurting, lonely,

Hopeful, happy

Pull yourself free

With the wreckage at your feet

There's a million worlds to explore

When you're ready the cosmos is yours

Yours.
