

Adem, These Lights Are Meaningful

I know that I've
Not been the same
Since the day we walked around and marvelled at the firmament

Both wrapped up
In a blanket that was handed down
And it struck me like a meteor

It's hard to explain, so hard to explain how I'm so sure

These lights are meaningful
We've got to understand
And work out what they say
These lights are meaningful
They'll tell what we forgot
We have a mission here
These lights are meaningful
We must translate them now
Else we'll just float around

We have reason here
Something beyond ourselves
These lights are meaningful

I needed purpose,
I was given one
To find the reasons for life
Etched between the distant suns and
The Zodiac gives clues to the wealth of all that once we knew

It's hard to explain so hard to explain how I'm so sure

These lights are meaningful
We have forgot ourselves
We drift on oblivious
These lights are meaningful
A message writ out large
Lest we forget ourselves
These lights are meaningful
This is our final chance
We had a mission here once

There not just pretty sparks
They're more than tiny stars
These lights are meaningful
We have a reason here
We must resolve ourselves

Maybe I got it wrong
Maybe I am just alone
Anything to feel alive
Take my hand and take me home
Make me feel like I'm not alone

It's what I need
