

Adolphson & Falk, Waves In The Air

I'm tuning in
On my radio
A whole world
Trying to let me know
A world of voices
Riding on the waves in the air

And though I'm shy
I'm not afraid to speak
Through the skies
To a face I cannot see
Do you read me?
I'm calling on the waves in the air

And though I'm alone
Somehow I feel you right here by my side
I've got your voice
To get me through the night
If you're a thousand miles away from my home
(Many miles from home)
Without a telex or a telephone
(Wherever you are)
Remember
You can find me on the waves in the air

Your sweet voice
Coming loud and clear
And your message
Is music to my ears
Love's sweet music
Is playing on the waves in the air

My antenna
Stands with open arms
To receive
Your radioactive charms
In return
I'm putting all my love on the air

And though I'm alone
Somehow I feel you right here by my side
I've got your voice
To get me through the night
If you're a thousand miles away from my home
(In Tokyo or Rome)
Without a telex or a telephone
(Wherever you are)
Remember
You can find me on the waves in the air

My antenna
Stands with open arms
To receive
In return
I'm putting all my love on the air

And though I'm alone
Somehow I feel you right here by my side
I've got your voice
To get me through the night
If you're a hundred thousand miles away
(Many miles away)
In Aberdeen or Adelaide

(Wherever you are)
Remember
You can find me on the waves in the air
