

Adult., You Don't Worry Enough

It's my premonition, with all your conditions
Mind your own, stay at home
See that bad omen looming above?
Remember - You don't worry enough

Flushed in red, won't move an inch
Nothing is harmless
You got it hard, and you got it rough
But you still don't worry enough

I'm just suggesting
Something undesirable is likely to happen

It shall come
It shall come
Worry, worry

It shall come
It shall come
Hurry, hurry

All this apprehension is causing too much tension
Just lay down, face down
You're so easy to push around
Perplexity is winning, uncertainty surrounds
I'll be precise, as much as I can
It may be hard to understand
Don't pay attention, take my advice
Just remember - You don't worry enough

I'm just suggesting
Something undesirable is likely to happen

It shall come
It shall come
Worry, worry

It shall come
It shall come
Hurry, hurry
