

Aereogramme, No Really, Everything's Fine

The reason we're all disfigured
I will say it again
The reason we're all disappointed
With innocence lost
You're alone
You can feel the resentment
Burning a pathway
Straight to your heart
I saw kingdom come

Maybe your life is wonderful
I wish you well
Please understand I won't change you
So grant me the same
I know this
There's a plain white horizon
I want it so badly
It seems after all
That you will be done

And it's done
Reaching on out
And it's done

We are all defenceless now
On your own you left somehow
With these broken bones
These broken bones

But I am one with these chains
Come around and I regain
With my broken bones
My broken bones

The reason we're all disfigured
I will say it again
The reason we're all disappointed
With innocence lost
You're alone
You can feel the resentment
Burning a pathway
Straight to your heart
I saw kingdom come
